NUVO Engagement Interns

NUVO is looking for talented, detail-oriented, high-energy students who are enthusiastic about learning the craft of audience engagement through social media and NUVO’s calendar of events.

The successful candidate for this internship will have excellent writing and reporting skills and the desire and ability to learn how to create compelling “blurbs” for venues and events. The intern will also learn and investigate the best practices for marketing editorial content and engaging NUVO’s readership through all of NUVO’s social media platforms.

NUVO’s Engagement Interns will report directly to Engagement Editor Brian Weiss. Educational meetings will be set up between managers of different departments and the student interns. As this internship opportunity will extend over multiple semesters, the intern will be expected to share and communicate their accumulated knowledge with their successor and learn from their predecessor.

Responsibilities of the Engagement Interns include but are not limited to: maintenance of NUVO’s online calendar and assisting with NUVO’s social media platforms (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Snapchat, et al), assisting in creating online quizzes, slideshows, editorial newsletters and other social media content and managing ticket giveaways. Communications with NUVO’s Promotions department is essential in these matters.

Interns will be required to log the hours dictated by IUPUI for accreditation. This internship is non-paid and is for-credit only.
