Like the “Little Engine That Could,” the IU School of Liberal Arts turns every challenge into opportunity. In the toughest times, it finds a way to succeed, through creativity, persistence and dogged determination.

We are a young school, yet our history is already being written. In May 2003, Indiana University Press published history professor emeritus Ralph Gray’s IUPUI: The Making of an Urban University, in which he not only told the story of the campus but also demonstrated the centrality of the Liberal Arts to campus development. Not long after, Associate Professor Paul Mullins (Anthropology) led a group of students in a summer archaeological field dig in the parking lot directly across from Cavanaugh Hall, uncovering our campus “roots.” Indeed, the class was able to locate and excavate the site of the now famous two-story outhouse!

2003 was also a year marked by profound change—and opportunity. Chancellor Gerald Bepko was asked to serve as Interim President of Indiana University, following the departure of President Myles Brand. In Bepko’s place, former Liberal Arts Dean William M. Plater (English) was appointed Acting Chancellor. The School also bade farewell to its own Dean, Herman J. Saatkamp, Jr. (Philosophy) in the spring of ’03, and Robert W. White (Sociology) became Acting Dean. Chancellor Charles R. Bantz joined the campus in early summer, along with his wife, Professor Sandra Petronio. Both became members of our Communication Studies faculty.

Among our transitions and challenges was the retirement of Associate Dean of Student Affairs Miriam Z. Langsam (History). In May, hundreds of friends, colleagues, and former students, sporting their favorite headwear, turned out for...
Honors and Accomplishments

Professor Ulla M. Connor (English), founder and Director of the Indiana Center for Intercultural Communication (ICIC) was named to the Barbara E. and Karl R. Zimmer Faculty Chair in Intercultural Communication.

William H. Schneider, Professor of History, past Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Programs, was named to the Baker-Ort Chair in International Health Philanthropy.

Dr. Rowland "Tony" Sherrill, chair of religious studies, became the first holder of the "Tony" Sherrill Chair and was awarded an honorary doctorate by his alma mater, Eckerd College, before his untimely death in May 2003.

Sharon J. Hamilton, Chancellor's Professor of English; Director of the Office for Integrating Learning, Co-Director of FACET (Faculty Colloquium on Excellence in Teaching), and the IUPUI Campus Director of the Urban Universities Portfolio Project, was selected as a Carnegie Scholar by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Giles Hoyt, Professor of German, was awarded the Indiana University John H. Ryan Award for distinguished contributions to international programs.

Elizabeth Brand Monroe, Associate Professor of History and Director of the Public History Program, received the Indiana University Thomas Ehrlich Award for Service Learning and the Jacob P. Dunn, Jr. Award for the best article in 2003 published in Traces of Indiana and Midwestern History.

Independent Sector, the national leadership forum that fosters private initiative for the public good, named Robert L. Payton, Professor Emeritus of Philanthropic Studies, the recipient of the John W. Gardner Leadership Award.

Professor Susan Buck Sutton (Anthropology) was named a Chancellor’s Professor and became IUPUI’s Associate Dean for International Affairs.

Associate Professor Aia Haas (Sociology) was awarded the Villis Vitols Prize by the Association for the Advancement of Baltic Studies.

David Fiedler, (BA, 2003, Communication Studies) was named the top male student at IUPUI.

Professor Robert G. Barrows (History) was honored by the Indiana Historical Society as the 2003 Hoosier Historian.

Eugene Tempel, Executive Director of the Center on Philanthropy, received the Bill Armstrong “Ambassador” award from the IU Foundation.

a huge ‘Hats Off to Miriam’ send-off. The student affairs office suite was renamed to honor her 40 years of service to IUPUI, and Professor Richard E Ward, past Chair of Anthropology, now heads that office.

Who Taught You?

The IU School of Liberal Arts asked its alumni to consider who among the faculty they would like to thank with a gift honoring the professor who most influenced their lives. Throughout this report you will hear from the teachers who were so honored.
Gifts

The work of the School is advanced by the generosity of many. In 2003, Alan Berry of the Kendall Berry Charitable Trust joined with Professor John Lachs of Vanderbilt University to challenge supporters of the Santayana Edition to meet a $60,000 challenge grant from NEH with their own contributions. David and Ann Frick, made a lead gift to endow the Rowland "Tony" Sherrill Prize in Religious Studies, in Tony Sherrill's memory. Their gift, along with those listed on pages 16-17, fund an annual prize for the student essay judged by faculty to be the year's best.

The L. Keith Bulen Symposium on American Politics remains one of the School's signature events, thanks in many ways to the support of P.E. MacAllister, whose generosity provided staffing for funds development for the Symposium.

Drs. Ruth and Eberhard Reichmann and Dr. Elizabeth Grossman, took advantage of the IU Foundation’s charitable gift annuity program to provide for future funding of an endowed chair and scholarships.

The Spirit and Place Festival, managed by the Polis Center, generated record breaking community support in 2003, through its partnerships with numerous community organizations.

Professors James (French) and Agnes Beaudry were recognized with the 2003 Spirit of Philanthropy Award for their support of study abroad scholarships for students and the development of the Beaudry Curriculum Center for world languages.

In 2003, 1,462 donors gave a total of $4,102,854.41 in support of the educational mission of the IU School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI. This report is offered in appreciation of each member of the Liberal Arts family who contributed and the profound impact of every gift.

You are invited to visit us at http://liberalarts.iupui.edu for updates on news and events throughout the year.

THE IU SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS DEAN’S COUNCIL

Annual contributions of $100 or more to the IU School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI are recognized through the Dean’s Council. These alumni and friends, whose gifts support the many programs, departments and centers that constitute the Liberal Arts, are vital partners in higher education in the State of Indiana.

The School of Liberal Arts is pleased to recognize the following loyal alumni, friends, staff and faculty for their important contributions.

“Philosopher William James reminds us that ‘the best use of our colleges is to give young men [and women] a wider openness of mind and a more fluid way of thinking than special technical training can generate.’ It seems to me there is more than ever, an urgent need for such a perspective that only the liberal arts can provide.”

The Joseph T. Taylor Heritage Society

The Joseph T. Taylor Heritage Society recognizes those who have made planned gift commitments to benefit the IU School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI through a variety of gift vehicles: life insurance, life estate, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts and bequests.

Their commitment and support will help shape the future of the School of Liberal Arts well into the coming century.

We have made every attempt to ensure that we have recognized all who have notified the university that they have included the School of Liberal Arts in their gift and estate planning. We apologize if we have failed to list anyone who would qualify for the Taylor Heritage Society. If you currently have a commitment in place to benefit the IU School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI through a bequest, charitable remainder trust, gift annuity, pooled income fund, charitable lead trust, life estate, life insurance policy, retirement plan, or IRA, you are eligible for recognition in The Joseph T. Taylor Heritage Society. Please notify the Office of Development and External Affairs of the School of Liberal Arts.

All gift information will be kept strictly confidential.
