LUNCHEON SPEAKERS

STEVEN GOLDSMITH is Chairman of the Corporation for National and Community Service and is Professor of the Practice of Public Management at Harvard’s Kennedy School of Government. He also serves as Special Advisor to President Bush on faith-based initiatives. He served the city of Indianapolis as mayor for two terms. His latest book is Putting Faith in Neighborhoods.

MARK CHAVES, PH.D. is Professor and Department Head of Sociology at the University of Arizona. His latest book, published in 2004 by Harvard University Press, is Congregations in America. He has written extensively on the notion of charitable choice, faith-based initiatives and congregations.

THE JOSEPH TAYLOR SYMPOSIUM

DR. JOSEPH T. TAYLOR served as a Professor of Sociology from 1965 to 1983 and as first Dean of the School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI from 1967-1978. The entire community was saddened by his death in September 2000. The Joseph Taylor Symposium honors Dr. Taylor for his many contributions to the University and to the community by hosting informed discussion on issues of concern in urban America. The Sixteenth Annual Taylor Symposium is offered in celebration of all Dr. Taylor stood for during his lifetime and will stand as a lasting legacy to his vision and life work. Dr. Taylor is remembered for his commitment to dialogue and diversity.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Attendance at the Joseph Taylor Symposium is free and open to the general public. All registrants are invited to the luncheon for which there is a modest charge.
