The Graduate Certificate in Medical Humanities

offers an interdisciplinary course of study drawn from the social science and humanities disciplines of Liberal Arts, as well as courses and participation of faculty from other schools.

The field of Medical Humanities provides students with the qualitative humanistic and socio-cultural perspectives on health care, in contrast to the clinical/objective approach traditionally taken in biomedicine.

Two courses (6 credit hours) are required:
- M501: The Human Condition
- M595: Clinical Practicum in Medical Humanities.

The remaining three courses (9 credit hours) are electives drawn from upper level Liberal Arts courses, including Medical Humanities, Philosophy, Communication Studies, Sociology, Anthropology, English, and History
